

To Have and to Loathe:

A guide to properly hating characters

Step 1: Acquire a Target

Choose wisely, as you will be dedicating significant portions of time to them.

Step 2: Research

Become well acquainted with your target.
Absorb all information available on them.

I'VE COME TO MAKE AN ANNOUNCEMENT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

MEGATRON IS A BITCH-ASS MOTHERFUCKER. HE PISSED ON MY FUCKING BLORBO!!!! THAT'S RIGHT, HE TOOK HIS SHITTY ROBOT
SPIKE OUT AND HE PISSED ON MY BLORBO!!! AND HE SAID HIS SPIKE WAS "THIS BIG" AND I WAS LIKE "???THAT'S DISGUSTING???"

Step 4: Debate

Use the knowledge you've acquired to challenge others who obviously don't know your beloved as well as you do.

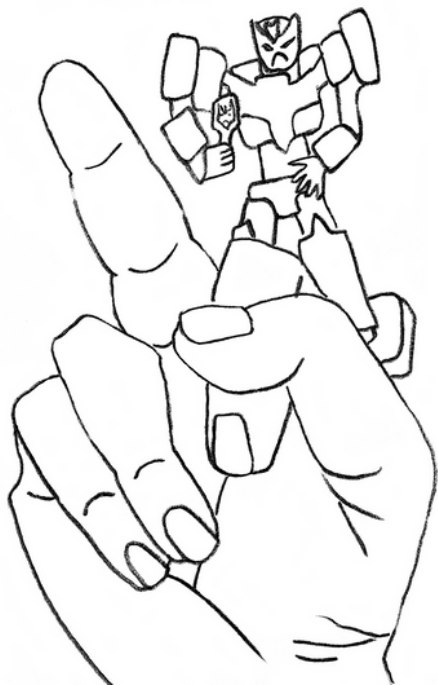

Step 5: See the Light

Reassess your prior takes on what characters really grind your gears. Come to realize that in spite of all the teeth grindingly infuriating feelings this character may give you, it isn't worth it to get that pressed.

Analyze what about this character reminds you of your cringe ass baby middle school self, tripping on your ass while running to submit your midterm in time. Or perhaps think of a scenario where, if someone was like them, they could possibly even be your friend.

Empathy is one of the first steps to letting go and touching grass, which is a healthy hobby...

Step 6: Continue to Hate
